BENNY. I had told him Christmas morning. As he sat upon my knee Holding fast his little stockings. Stuffed as full as full could be. And attentive listening to me, With a face demnre and mild, That old Santa Claus, who filled them

Did not love a naughty caild. "But we'll be good, won't we moder" And from off my lap he slid. Digging deep among the goodies. In his crimson stockings hid; While I turned me to my table, Where a tempting goblet stood.

Brimming high with dainty egg nog. Sent me by a neighbor good. But the kitten, there before me, With his white paw, nothing loth, Sat, by way of entertainment, Slapping off the shining froth; And in not the gentlest humor At the loss of such a treat, I contess. I rather rudely

Thrust him out into the street. Then, how Benny's blue-eye kindled! Gathering up the precious store He had busily been pouring In his tiny pinafore. With a generous look that shamed me, Sprang he from the carpet bright,

Showing, by his mien indignant All a baby's sense of right. 'Come back, Harney!" called he, loudly, As he held his apron white-"You shall have my candy wahbit" But the door was fastened tight,

So he stood abashed and silent,

Like some lordly little ell,

In the centre of the floor. With defeated look alternate Bent on me and on the door. Then, as by some sudden impulse, Quickly ran he to the fire, And while eagerly his bright eyes Watched the flames go high and higher, In a brave clear key he shouted,

Sant Kaus, come down de chimney, Make my moder 'have herselt! "I'll be a good girl, Benny," Said I, teeling the reproof; And straight way called poor Harney, Mewing on the gallery root. Soon the anger was forgotten, Laughte, chased away the frown,

And they gambolled 'neath the live oaks Till the dusty night came down. In my dim, fire-lighted chamber, Harney purred beneath my chair, And my play worn boy beside me, Knelt to say his evening prayer God bess Fader-God bess Moder, God bess sister-then a pause,

And the sweet young lips devoutly Murmured, "God bess Santa Kaus!" He is sleeping-brown and silken Lie the lashes, long and meek, Like caressing, clinging shadows On his plump and peachy cheek; And I bend above him, weeping Thankful tears—Oh, undefiled! For a woman's crown of glory,

For the blessing of a child.
